

WRI Midpoint Review Guidelines

(FA18)

The student will:

1. Upload a short film script you have completed during your time at the School Of Writing. The short should have received a C or above in class. You must be prepared to discuss this submission and answer questions pertaining to the world, characters, story, dialogue, your connection to the piece, research performed, and other topics. You should also be prepared to discuss your other writing projects in the school and your plans for the remainder of your MFA studies. Your review will last for approximately one hour and you will be expected to attend, either in person or online. You may upload a maximum of two other pieces of supplemental work for your review. (r 619, if MPT 629 has not been completed)

The committee will meet without the student present.

The student will schedule an appointment to meet with the WRI executive director after the committee meeting.
